

John P. Nolan, M.D.

Comprehensive Diagnostic Center (CDC) is now scheduling with John P. Nolan, M.D.! One of the founders of Mercer-Bucks Orthopaedics, Dr. Nolan is board-certified in both orthopaedic surgery and sports medicine. After earning his Doctor of Medicine at Thomas Jefferson University, he completed his residency in orthopaedic surgery at the Medical College of Pennsylvania, where he earned an appointment as a clinical instructor and completed additional post-residency training in sports medicine at Temple University and the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Nolan was appointed clinical instructor at the orthopaedic division of Laser Centers of America, where he developed laser instruments for use in arthroscopy. While serving on multiple boards, throughout his career, Dr. Nolan was one of the first surgeons in the Mercer Bucks area to perform outpatient total hip and knee replacements and use computer navigation and robotic-assisted joint replacements. He currently serves on the medical advisory board of the Wellness Center at RWJ Hamilton.

Please call CDC to schedule with Dr. Nolan or any of our other providers! If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact our home office at 1-800-494-0321 or visit our web site at:

www.cdcime.com

-  All physicians utilized by CDC have excellent track records in providing quality reports, depositions and testimony resulting in value-added outcomes
-  CDC offers a comprehensive overview letter to the physician prepared by a disability case manager upon request
-  A certified disability specialist/case manager is always available for consultation or assistance

CDC has over 30 years of experience as a national coordinator of Independent Medical Examinations. IMEs are effective tools for clarification of treatment needs, causality issues, work capabilities, establishing Maximum Medical Improvement (MMI), determining future claims exposure, setting reserves, establishing permanency and moving the claim toward resolution. These issues may be addressed in exams for Workers Comp, Auto Liability, General Liability, Short and Long-Term Disability, Fitness for Duty and FMLA. CDC provides IMEs for both plaintiff and defense cases.

Going the Extra Mile to Coordinate and Deliver Quality Services:

- ✓ Audio and Video Depositions
- ✓ Ergonomic Assessments
- ✓ Fitness for Duty Evaluations
- ✓ Functional Capacity Evaluations
- ✓ Diagnostic Studies (i.e. MRI, EMG/NCV)
- ✓ IREs, DREs, IMEs, DMEs, etc.
- ✓ FMLA 2nd Medical Opinions / Surgical Opinions
- ✓ Peer or Medical Record Reviews
- ✓ Permanency Evaluations
- ✓ Translation and Transportation Services

